IMAGEMAKER SUITE

- DISCPRIINT
- IMAGEMAKER EZ
- MYDISC
- CD REMOTE

Microtech's proprietary ImageMaker Software Suite is simply the best on the market. We have considered every need from custom network publishers to one-to-many duplicators and incorporated it into the easiest to use software available.

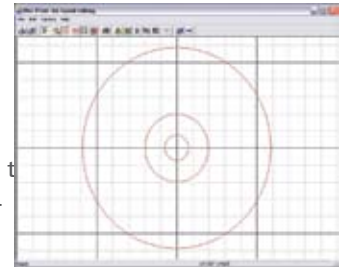

Utilizing the ImageMaker Software, Microtech customers can quickly produce replication quality CDs and DVDs. Work from the machine, work over the network, or even work from home. Create your own disc artwork or print high quality text on pre-silkscreened media. Put a unique serial number on any disc. Build our software into your existing enterprise solution. The possibilities are endless.

Microtech produces the most comprehensive software suite in the disc production industry. These quality engineered programs have been refined with our 25 years of software duplication experience.

DISCPRIINT

DiscPrint software is the tool used for printing text and graphic images directly on a disc for a completely professional presentation. The print quality clearly rivals discs that have been silkscreened from replication houses, but unlike pressed discs, our software allows you to generate dynamic text and print on pre-silkscreened discs.

- Create custom disc labels
- Import pictures and graphics
- Edit text
- Add system variables such as time and date
- Supports print merge files for printing variable text
- Supports pre-printed media with ImageAligner
- Barcode printing support

IMAGEMAKER EZ

ImageMaker EZ software allows Microtech disc production system users to easily make copies of CD or DVD discs. It provides all the necessary information to run duplication jobs in a clear, concise format. ImageMaker EZ can be used either directly on the disc production system itself, or remotely from a computer connected via network to the production system. For one copy or hundreds, 'EZ' makes it happen.

- Copy protection feature
- Serialization support
- Bit for Bit verification
- Print only function
- Copy from images off the network
- Master disc images to HD
- Copy from master discs "Disc to Disc"
- Supports most disc formats

MYDISC

MyDisc software program allows custom disc creation on a Microtech disc production system. MyDisc uses standard file selection and browsing techniques with a streamlined visual interface. Work from a network or your own computer.

Disc label layouts may be designed, modified and saved. Once the disc is designed with a label and data content, MyDisc sends it off for processing on a Microtech production system. Whether it is a single disc, or hundreds, the Microtech production system takes over to actually produce the discs, freeing your computer from further involvement with the job.

- Create custom CD and DVD discs with printed labels
- Enterprise solution for disc publishing
- Send jobs from multiple workstations
- Multiple automated systems supported
- Email notification
- Accepts jobs via FTP
- Verification of data
- Network security features

CD REMOTE

CD-Remote is the production software control module "Brains" behind the intelligent ImageMaker Suite.

CD-Remote has an application interface which communicates the software and hardware status of the Microtech machines and all job submissions.

Custom applications for disc creation and publishing are easily possible with the CD-Remote programmers API. Since all communication with CD-Remote is done with plain text ASCII files, programming consists of writing and reading these files. Use any text editor to generate a job file with instructions for creating a disc. Jobs can also be generated by a database program or another software application.

The powerful CD-Remote is ideal for creating an on-demand system where each disc is unique. Just a few examples are Music On Demand, automatic billing statements, patient records archiving, Just InTime software manufacturing, and digital photo printing.
